

(Exhibit 1)

on or about the 3rd of March 2023 at around 0639 Am CD's wks
; Blair of the Lewis & Clark County Detention Center entered the Pod 3 to serve the Plaintiff a minor infractions report. As the Plaintiff was handed the report from the Defendant, the defendant made a statement in regards to the Plaintiff's house and his racially inferior skin color.

The Plaintiff was at the threshold to his cell and retreating as officer Blair repeatedly pushed and yelled hit me you know you want to, your kind are peaceful hit me. The plaintiff hit the book and officer Blair got more violent after cutting him slamming his head against the wall wall then telling him to get on his knees when the Plaintiff refused officer Blair slammed him down saying natives needed to learn there place. This is my house and these are my officers you'll do as we say.

Due process was violated when the Grievance process wasn't followed or answered. 1983 protects against racist behavior against inmates as well as the 14th amendment's protection against Deliberate indifference to inmates complaints. They were Deliberately indifferent when they ignored grievances.

On or about the 3rd of March 2023 at approx 0637 AM correctional officers Wilks & Blair of the Lewis & Clark Correctional Detention Center entered pod 3 to serve the plaintiff a minor infraction report. The incident was recorded on pod 3's camera system for both the protection of officers & inmates. The plaintiff took the infraction report from the officers and retreated towards the plaintiffs cell to place the report on his bunk. At this point officer Blair started to state in effect "this is my house" and other statements that the Plaintiff did not understand what the officer was trying to communicate. The plaintiff was standing at the threshold of his cell when officer Blair & approached putting his hands on the plaintiff and pushing him further into the cell. As he pushed the plaintiff back he kept repeating the phrase "hit me" over and over until the plaintiff back was against his bunks. Officer Blair instructs the plaintiff to lay down on the bottom rack, which the Plaintiff replies "that's not my Rack" so officer Blair says put your hands ~~behind your back~~ on the wall. I shift what I have in my hands around to place the contents on the top bunk which is mine, then place my hands on the wall. Officer Blair purposely places my left hand in cuffs and slams my head into the brick wall then grabs my right hand and puts it in cuffs. Then officer Blair spins me around and tells me to get on my knees. At this time ^{the plaintiff} ~~is~~ is scared, unsure of what ^{has been done} ~~I have done~~ to make the plaintiff the recipient of the officers anger. But the plaintiff feels unsafe and fears for his life. Officer Blair has grabbed his belt and pants and repeated get on your knees to which the plaintiff says no, then officer Blair slams him down to the ground.
